President's Message

Truck maintenance is one of those things I see a lot of service professional forgetting about during the summer season. We drive so many miles to the pools and we are too busy to stop and have maintenance done on our trucks. I am one who fails at this too. Taking some time now will not only save money at the gas pump, but it will save money on costly repairs to your truck as well. For example, *Keep your engine tuned. Tuning your engine according to your owners manual can increase gas mileage by an average of four percent.

* Keep your tires properly inflated and aligned. It can increase gas mileage up to three percent.

* Change your oil. According to the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) and Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), you can improve your gas mileage by using the manufacturers recommended grade of motor oil. Motor oil that says Energy Conserving on the performance symbol of the American Petroleum Institute contains friction reducing additives that can improve fuel economy.

*Check and replace air filters regularly. Replacing clogged filters can increase gas mileage up to ten percent.

*The last way I have found was using a GPS system in the truck. It will not only save time in looking up new addresses, but it can be set for the best mileage as well.

'Til next time,
"Keep It Clear"

President
